

Usability Questionnaire

Introduction: As a general member of the public, as well as members of academia, you are an integral part of the Electronic Literature Repository's user base. As such, the Web Development team in this semester's senior seminar has created a short questionnaire to better accommodate the website to its users. For this test we have chosen to focus on navigation, specifically our prototyped webpages.

1. Can you find the Search page?
2. Did you find the About page?
3. How many main sections did you see on the FAQ page?
4. Can you name the animal on the Individual Artists & Scholars page?
5. Can you find the tag on the Strange Rain work page?
6. How many collaborators are listed on the Strange Rain work page?
7. Who is the author of the When I Was President work?
8. How many works were noted for the Alan Bigelow collection?
9. How many pages are mentioned on the Search page?
10. How many works are listed on the main page?

Feedback regarding broken links, unclear tasks, or misspelled words would be greatly appreciated and please submit your results to DimitriMyers61@gmail.com
